

January 11, 2026

---

Series

Reflections of a Shepherd's Heart

Today's Message

Speak, for Your Servants Listen! Part 2

Today's Main Scripture

1 Samuel 3:1-18

Main Point

As the under-shepherd of the Lord's flock at Perry Hall, some things have been impressed upon my heart to share with you as we start this new calendar year. Today, we will examine Samuel's call to be God's prophet, paying particular attention to his heart to listen and obey, and we'll look at what this means for each one of us.

1. Prepared to Change!
2. Prepared to Listen!
3. Prepared to Obey!

"The object of a new year is not that we should have a new year, but rather that we should have a new soul." (G.K. Chesterton)

Notes:

Self Reflection:

- 1) As you prepare for the new year, what changes will you make? What will be different? Specifically, consider these questions in relationship to your walk and intimacy with the Lord.
- 2) It has been said that our lives are to be governed by God's "grand purposes" rather than existing only within the confines of our own self-interests. How might this biblical truth impact your plans for the new year?

Further Study

Psalm 4:1-3; 5:1-3; Psalm 86:1-6; 88:2,9, & 13; Lamentations: 3:22-23;
Colossians 3:1-5

